NRB's off-site construction, shortened construction schedule and turnkey services were the solution for Canadian Pacific Railway's need for accommodation facilities in a remote Ontario location within a short timeframe.

PROJECT OVERVIEW:

NRB had successfully provided Canadian Pacific Railway with three previous accommodation facilities. When the decision was made to proceed with construction of new accommodation quarters at their White River, Ontario facility, Canadian Pacific Railway (CPR) turned to NRB to once again provide a complete turnkey modular solution within a short timeframe.

This customized modular bunkhouse is now in full operation with up forty (40) bedrooms available to CPR personnel as well as a reception area, kitchen, lounge, gym, locker room and complete washroom and shower facilities.
